Ref. No. APGCU/2025-26/HF

Date: 21.07.2025

The college regularly organizes health camps and medical awareness programs as part of its commitment to promoting student welfare and overall well-being. These health camps are conducted periodically in collaboration with qualified healthcare professionals and medical practitioners. During these programs, students and staff are provided with basic medical check-ups, health screenings, and professional guidance on preventive healthcare practices. The primary objective of these initiatives is to create awareness about health issues, encourage early detection of potential health concerns, and promote a healthy lifestyle among the college community.

In addition to these health initiatives, the college provides a dedicated health room on campus to support students who may feel unwell during college hours. The health room is equipped with basic medical facilities and essential first-aid supplies. It is supervised by a trained attending nurse who offers immediate assistance and first aid whenever required. This arrangement ensures that students receive prompt medical attention and care, thereby maintaining a safe, supportive, and health-conscious campus environment.
